Dear Parents/Carers,

This week has been another busy week at school. We were lucky enough to have our governors in today, which was a real pleasure to have this opportunity to show off the school again. They were positive about the lessons they saw, the children and staff they spoke to. The children did us proud as always, displaying our school values in all that they do. A huge thank you to the governors for their time today, it is very much appreciated and valued!

We can't wait to see you at learning meetings next week and share your wonderful children's achievements. If you haven't booked in please do so. If you have problems please contact your child's class teacher who will help with any issues. For those of you who haven't been to a learning meeting before, you can come along before your child's meeting, look at their books in the hall and grab yourself a cup of tea or coffee (bring some change) and then share your child's learning with their class teacher. We do encourage children to also come, so they can hear all of the lovely things we have to say.

We wish you all a lovely weekend!

Mrs Capel
